Effective from 2nd December 2016

As many other suppliers, we too are experiencing effects of the currency and raw material fluctuations.

We have over the years as a business always tried to absorb any price increases we have from within our business or from our suppliers. Many of our products have had no price increase since 2011 and some ranges were recently reduced when the euro improved back in late 2014. This has left us without the ability to absorb the severity of the current situation. So regrettably from the 2nd December 2016, we need to increase our prices by 10%.
